Second edition of CIRCULAR ROOMS - Conference with exhibition on September 9, 2025 at Rheinterrasse Düsseldorf

Following the successful premiere of CIRCULAR ROOMS in March this year, the focus will once again be on future topics in the fashion industry on the 9th of September 2025.

Together with their partners Global Textile Scheme GmbH and Repair Rebels GmbH, Igedo Exhibitions has created a platform that focuses on the challenges and opportunities in the areas of regulation, digitalization, change management and sustainable business models. The diverse presentations, keynote speeches and discussion panels clearly show that despite the major challenges, the innovative strength of the industry is unbroken.

Key topics: regulation, changing value chains, an unstoppable increase in demand for data - what is really important for companies today and tomorrow and who can help them to navigate in this complex landscape?

QAndreas Schneider, CEO Global Textile Scheme GmbH: "The developments in the Digital Product Passport environment are in a decisive phase with constantly changing facts - but they affect all suppliers, brands and vertical retailers. I support CIRCULAR ROOMS as the only European meeting place for this topic, because you can find all the important information in one place."

Why CIRCULAR ROOMS?

- CIRCULAR ROOMS is the only event that combines politics, technology and sustainability on a platform specifically targeted at the fashion industry including the special needs of the suppliers.
- Regulatory clarity: Experts provide curated insights into the latest EU regulations - what's coming, what does it mean and how can companies prepare strategically?

- Speakers are hand-picked and experts in their fields, drawing attention to emerging topics.
- The best of global fashion technology: technology solutions for the fashion industry - the international exhibitors present innovations that meet the real needs of the fashion industry.

Ulrike Kähler, Managing Director Igedo Exhibitions: "In the midst of regulatory upheaval, new value chains and growing data requirements, the fashion industry needs space for orientation and dialogue more than ever. With CIRCULAR ROOMS, together with our partners, we have created a format that addresses precisely this issue - and, among other things, facilitates dialogue about the future of the industry.

From the industry, for the industry:

CIRCULAR ROOMS is not a traditional conference, but a collaborative platform that promotes open dialogue on an equal footing and develops solutions together.

The aim is to work together to make the fashion industry more circular, more digital and more future proof.
